

Join the C4B Project Stakeholder Panel and Shape the Future

The C4B project is excited to announce the launch of our Stakeholder Panel – an interactive, digital platform where experts, industry leaders, and innovators across the bio-based sector come together to shape the future of circular bioeconomy. Whether you're in agriculture, forestry, industry, researcher or policymaking, this panel is designed for you. Sign up for the C4B Stakeholder Panel and join a collaborative network that will drive impactful, sustainable business models and advance bio-based solutions across Europe.

1. Why Join the Stakeholder Panel?

Our Stakeholder Panel is more than a networking platform; it's a community built on shared goals and active engagement. Here's what you can expect as a panel member:

- Access Exclusive Resources and Insights. Panel members gain access to a wealth of curated resources, research, and tools to deepen understanding and drive innovation.
- The Discussion Forum is a dedicated space for open conversations with like-minded stakeholders. Engage in Meaningful Dialogue, share ideas, discuss challenges, and collaborate on solutions in a supportive, knowledge-rich environment.
- Network with Sector Leaders. With the Community Members feature, you can connect with stakeholders across sectors and regions. Use search and filter options to find professionals based on expertise, value chain focus, or organizational type, making it easy to build valuable connections that foster collaboration.

- Stay Updated on Events and Initiatives. Through the Events Calendar, panel members are the first to know about upcoming workshops, webinars, and meetings that align with C4B's mission. Plus, you're invited to share relevant events from your organization or network.

2. Getting Started Is Easy!
